

This student drinks alcohol about once a month at a party.

This student has been stealing cough syrup from relatives to drink each morning before class.

This student smokes weed every lunch hour. The student says it's important to make the afternoon go more smoothly.

This student is so into gaming that he's online about seven hours a day. He has stopped hanging out with friends in person because he has to get home to game with his online friends. He is constantly fighting with his parents about the time he spends gaming/lack of schoolwork, etc.

This student has been stealing painkillers from home and can't go a day without using them. The student misses a lot of school, and seems kind of out of it when present at school.

---