Self-Reflection

Describe how the artifact you selected shows your strengths & growth in specific core competencies. The prompt questions on the left - or other self-assessment activities you may have done - may guide your reflection process.

Majority of my Social Justice projects really pushed my growth in critical thinking, but the one that I think I grew the most in, was my paper on Palestine vs Israel. I think about 20% of the project I was bias towards Palestine to create the questions against Israel, and then 80% I was bias towards Israel for the body of the paper. I had to do lots of research and read many different takes on the situation. My critical thinking was most important when it came to my different sources as I had to look at what was being said in the sources and whether it lined up with what I had previously learned from Dr. Ursu's lectures and notes. Overall this was one of the hardest projects I did in this class but I think it was an important unit to do in understanding what is going on in the world.
