

Acceptance

I made a mistake again today
Doubting the decisions I have made
I see myself in the mirror everyday
Looking at the flaws I have gained

Regretting the choices I have chosen
Breathing through the ice-cold air
I turn back to the frozen ocean
That is singing a song of care

It chants with a soft smooth tone
A message that gives some warmth
People cannot always be on the throne
So accept all the mistakes you have formed

Soon the ice started to disappear
And the ocean bade farewell with a drop a tear