

REAL CARE BABY

I LEARNED THAT RESPONSIBLE PARENTS NEED TO HAVE THESE SKILLS...

BEING PATIENT

A parent needs to be very patient with a baby because baby's will want many things and sometimes everything you do just doesn't work. Being patient means keeping calm. You have to be patient because baby's take time and attention. And you need to put your whole focus on them. With my real care baby I had to be very patient, when the baby was whining and starting to cry louder, I had to be calm and patient to resolve the issue.

BE ABLE TO CARE FOR THE BABY

You need to be able to give the baby everything they need. Meaning learning how to rock, feed, burp, change the baby and much more! You need to be able to know how to properly to accommodate the baby's needs. I had to learn how to hold, rock, feed and more to take care of the baby. As time went on, I started to get the hand of things!

TO ENSURE THE SAFETY OF YOUR CHILD

You need to make sure your baby is safe at all times. Whether this means at home, in your arms, in the car. Wherever it is your baby needs to be safe. For example, being able to hold your baby properly in your arms, to not drop it, living in a safe neighborhood, buckling the car seat properly. I learned how to make sure my child is safe and ensure safety precautions.
